

Evolution of WebAgency

A Journey Through Time

1982

Generation 3 was established by a British Expat who embarked on the journey after receiving an IBM PC #2 as a gift. Generation 3 occupied offices in Near North Chicago.

1996

Postmaster Corporation, focused on Novell Netware, is acquired by Novell.

2010

Launches THETELLY.NET, pioneering TV streaming services, later sold to UK-TV Anywhere.

2020

Launches stayhere.com, expanding into the travel industry, set to launch in 2024.

Early 80's

Mid 80's

Modem Controls, a subsidiary, sells modem driver technology to US Robotics.

2000

With the emergence of the Internet, the company rebranded itself as Web Agency and established a subsidiary named InterMedic Communications. It relocated to the suburbs of Cary, IL. With the owner's marriage to a physician at the time, the company shifted its focus to the healthcare vertical market, specializing in developing HIPAA-compliant websites for physicians and hospitals.

Present

Specializing in in-house web services, evolving to serve any company's web needs.

Expanding into the horizontal market, offering a range of web solutions from brochures to complex e-commerce platforms.

Our engineers and coders leverage a range of technologies from WordPress to ColdFusion, ensuring versatility and capability in web development.

